My
Rev. W. H. Belden

I judge you want a circular of four pages, sheet about the size of this I am writing upon. The display by heavy-faced letter of varying sizes and by indentation somewhat as you have written the copy sent, also capitals, small capitals, and italics.

It is a job out of my line; yet I can say that it is a job known to type-setters as time-work, and in a regular job-office will cost the owner about $4.80, and he will charge $6 for the work; paper $3.70, charge $4-presswork $4 = or $14 for the 2000 copies wanted. You will need to furnish to the printer new copy, for this before

One is illegible in many words, and whole lines in places.

In haste

Respectfully

Henry Russell
